DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. The remarks filed on March 16, 2009 have been considered. The arguments are persuasive in overcoming the 35 USC 102 rejection, which is hereby withdrawn.
2. A new ground of rejection is made herein. The rejection was necessitated by amendment dated November 25, 2008. Non-elected species remain withdrawn from consideration due to the non-allowability of the generic claims.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on March 16, 2009 was in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97 and 37 CFR 1.98. The IDS was considered. A signed copy of form 1449 is enclosed herewith.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

Art Unit: 1626

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
4. Claims 19, 23-27, 32 and 38-43 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Martin et al.

Determination of the scope and contents of prior art.

The reference teaches the following compound as herbicide:

Ascertaining the differences between prior art and instant claims.

The following modification to the prior art compound results in a non-elected species within the scope of the instant claims: iPr with methyl/ethyl. Thus, the prior art compound is a homolog of the instant non-elected species.

Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art – Prima Facie Case of Obviousness.

To those skilled in chemical art, one homologue is not an advance over an adjacent member of a homologous series. The reason for this is that one of ordinary skill, knowing the properties of one member of series, would know what properties to expect in adjacent members. In re Henze, 85 USPQ 261 (1950). In re Wood, 199 U.S.P.Q. 137 (C.C.P.A. 1978) and In re Lohr, 137 U.S.P.Q. 548, 549 (C.C.P.A. 1963).

One of ordinary skill would be motivated, from the prior art disclosure to make the modification required to arrive at the instant invention with reasonable expectation of success for obtaining an additional compound for the same utility. The motivation would be to make an additional anti-anxiety compounds.

Thus, the instant claims are prima facie obvious over the teaching of the prior art.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
